Bristol Man Burned

PHILADELPHIA — Herbert Hafer, 25, of 127 Dickinson Ave., Bristol, was burned early today when a large kettle exploded at a chemical plant in Philadelphia.

Hafer, who was sprayed by the glazing contents of the kettle, ran out of the American Aniline and Extract company plant, crying, "I can't see."

At Northeastern Hospital he was treated for burns of the face, hands and arms and doctors said his condition was good.

A company spokesman said the 350 gallon tank was half full of compounds used in the manufacturing of nylons. He added that the tank apparently overheated, causing the gum to overflow and come in contact with live steam, which set off the explosion.

The plant sprinkling system extinguished the blaze before firemen arrived.

Contract Awarded

HARRISBURG, Aug. 7—An award to Harry C. Erb, of Bala-Cynwyd, of a contract for construction of a 3.4 mile section of U. S. Highways 1 and 13, in Falls township, at his low bid of $2,043,015.46, was announced yesterday by the State Highway Department.

The project was undertaken by the authority at the request of the State Highway Department and includes construction of a four-lane divided highway with ramps and interchanges in the vicinity of Morrisville to permit better routing of traffic around the Fairless plant of the U. S. Steel Corporation.

Deaths Climb

PANMUNJOM — The estimated toll of Americans done to death in Communist captivity mounted to at least 5000 today as 81 more U. S. fighting men returned to freedom with fresh disclosures of spine-chilling Red cruelties and neglect.

Agreement Ends Plans for Strike At Fairless Works

Rumors of a strike at United States Steel Corporation's Fairless Works nosedived last night when grievances were "completely straightened out" at a meeting of Local 4889, C.I.O., according to a union spokesman.

Workers at the meeting, held in Holy Trinity Church Hall, Morrisville, expressed sentiments both for and against the strike action. Some strongly pushed for a strike as the only means of getting their demands, others insisted on continuing without a strike.

The union spokesman said, "a report from the grievance committee covering the strike situation was accepted by the general membership." No vote figures were revealed and the spokesman refused to comment further.

Strike rumors were so strong that key management personnel were reported preparing to hole up in the plant for several days in the expectation that the strike would prevent them from leaving.

A company spokesman said that operating procedures must be maintained and that a few key management employees remain in the plant during a strike for this purpose.

More than 500 open hearth workers struck at the plant last week in protest to incentive pay and seniority plans.

Complaints Heard On Tax Levies

Bucks County Commissioners today will hear complaints from officials of Falls Township and Tullytown borough concerning tax assessments in the area.

The closed door session was scheduled to be held at 11 a. m. Tullytown Borough Council President Nicholas Eberle said the main objective of the meeting will be "to have Lower Bucks County set on an equalized basis."

Ernest H. Harvey, chief clerk of the commission board, indicated a public hearing might follow the closed session.

Parochial School Solicitors Warned Of Communism

NEWTOWN, Aug. 7 — Speaking at a "kick-off" dinner in the Temperance House Tuesday evening, sponsored by Lavelle Aircraft Corp. for benefit of the parochial school fund of St. Andrew's R. C. Church, Wynn Wright, well known radio and television producer, outlined his opinions regarding the Church, an alibi danger of Communism to American freedom.

"It is absolutely essential in any community to keep alive free America, and part of free America is the parochial school, for the expression of freedom in our republic," said Mr. Wright. "The extensive infiltration of Communism in this country is against all freedom and there are communistic conspiracies in every community to overthrow the government," continued Mr. Wright. "Every small community must be aware of communistic activities and fight against them. We must fight to retain our liberty and freedom, and keep alive the American way at its best. This effort for the school is one way."

Mr. Wright also stated there are over 3500 teachers, and over 7000 members of the clergy in this country who are charged as being members of the communist party.

T. Frank Devlin, Jr., chairman of the affair, announced captains and solicitors in the sale of tickets for the production "Paint Your Wagon" to be presented at Lambertville, N. J., Sept. 28. A wrist watch will be presented to the man and woman selling the greatest number of tickets.

Thomas Lavelle, chairman of the building fund, spoke briefly on the school program.

The Rev. Daniel J. Daly cited the fact that Catholic Schools are tax free, and maintained entirely by voluntary contributions.

Captains in the drive are: Frank Goffey, Mrs. Eugene Robertson, Mrs. Raymond V. Hennessey, Mrs. James Healy, Mrs. John Trainer, Mrs. Anthony Sweeney, Joseph Dembeck.

Storm Drainage Project Underway In Langhorne Area

LANGHORNE, Aug. 7 — Contractors have begun work on a storm drainage system for Langhorne Borough, councilmen were told at their meeting last night.

The contract was let in June to handle storm drainage in the borough.

In routine business the councilmen approved a change in zoning from RI (residential) to C (commercial) for a property located on the northern boundary line of the borough between the Neshaminy creek and the Trenton cut-off of the Pennsylvania railroad. The property is owned by William Croell and his wife. He conducts a welding business on the site.

The cost of a recent street survey, the new drainage system and roadwork on the route from Newtown to Penned have created a budgetary problem a council spokesman said. Council secretary William Palmer said the problem of balancing a budget approved in January and not taking the recent expenditures into consideration was discussed.

Paul B. Bennetch, council president, presided at the meeting.

12 Registered In Bucks County

Twelve people were registered yesterday in Lower Bucks County, according to a report from the county courthouse. Bensalem, in the lower east and upper districts, registered nine Democrats; one Republican in Langhorne Manor borough, and two Republicans in the west district of Lower Southampton township.

The registrars will sit in Lower Makefield township in the Makefield school today.

5 Bus Drivers Protest Wages Before Board

School Bus Men Claim Discipline Problem Exists

CROYDON, Aug. 7—Five Bristol Township school bus drivers protested to the School Board last night that their wages were "not in conjunction" with what drivers in Neshaminy and other districts were getting.

A spokesman for the group, Elbert McQuaid, also said that there was a disciplinary problem with the children riding the buses that "had to be solved."

Other problems brought before the Board concerned working hours, seniority and "general working conditions."

McQuaid said that he and other drivers have "repeatedly had trouble with some children who are ring leaders," and that disciplinary action taken by school authorities "was not satisfactory."

"Why, it's so bad sometimes that a kid will tell you, 'go ahead and report me—see if it does you any good,' and it's happened time and again," McQuaid said.

Protest Rate

The men protested their rate of $1.50 an hour, which represents a "slight increase" over last year's rate. They said that drivers in other school districts were getting "at least $1.75 an hour."

Board president J. Russell Straub pointed out that, although the pay "was not exceptional," the Board could not compete with professional firms, and pay union scale rates to the drivers. "But," he said, "you must remember that your pay is good all year long, with no dues to pay, no politics involved and no layoffs."

Straub also said that the men were now being paid for seven holidays a year, and that a new sick-leave policy had been put recently into effect under a new contract.

Children Disciplined

Walter D. Miller and Henry Decker, in charge of disciplining children, said that "parents of every child who is reported to them for misbehavior on the buses are contacted, and the children are prohibited to ride the vehicles for as many as three days."

"If you'll just report those children," said Miller, "we'll do our best to see that it doesn't happen again."

The drivers were told that, under no conditions, were they to forcibly remove a child from the bus. "If the situation gets that bad," commented secretary Clarence Young, "I would pull the bus to the side of the road and summon a policeman, and have the child removed."

McQuaid said afterwards that he was "satisfied in that the Board promised to study our complaints."

Other drivers involved in the protest were: Edward Buck, Charles Krumm, Joseph Wilson and Michael Piccari. They would not say whether they represented the other eight Township drivers.

Sheep Barn Razed On Solebury Farm

SOLEBURY, August 7 — Fire last night destroyed a sheep barn on the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. McGoldrick on Sagan road, Solebury.

Fire companies from three Bucks county communities battled the flames which burned the stone and frame structure to the ground. No livestock was lost in the blaze. The sheep were grazing in a field nearby.

A maid, Margaret Busch, alone in the main building of the estate, spotted the flames and phoned the New Hope Fire Company at 8:15 p. m. Additional companies from Lahaska and Point Pleasant were called to the scene.

Firemen prevented the flames from spreading to a guest house and the main residence.

Because the McGoldricks were on vacation in Nova Scotia no estimate of damages could be made.

Sewage Plant Progresses

Workmen labor with pneumatic tools to complete work on one of the large digestive tanks at the new sewage disposal plant on the Neshaminy Creek at Fergusonsville, near Newportville. The million dollar plant is being built to serve residents of Fairless Hills by the Falls Township Authority. Work on the project is now 60 percent complete. The buildings when completed will reveal the utmost in modern design and planning and will be landscaped to enhance the pleasant view.

Four Motorists Injured in Crash At Routes 13, 413

Two cars collided last night at the intersection of Routes 13 and 413, and the Bristol township police reported that three persons were injured, and a fourth suffered shock.

James A. Paul, Jr., 19, of 526 Westmoreland st., Philadelphia, was making a left turn onto Route 413 when his car was hit by one operated by Thomas Farenio, 25, Cornwells Heights. Officers Robert Hibbs and Thomas Stewart reported. The entire right side of Paul's car was damaged.

Ruth Villani, who suffered a possible skull fracture, and her sister Joyce, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who suffered shock, were taken to Nazareth Hospital by the Bucks County Rescue Squad. They were riding with Paul.

Farenio and a passenger, John Kowalski, 23, of Wildnau ave., Cornwells Heights, were treated at the hospital for face cuts.

Francis Miller, 19, of Cornwells Heights, and Paul were uninjured.

Molten Metal Spills at Plant

Firemen of Bristol and Edgely Co. No. 1 were called to the All-Lite Metal Window Co. Emilie road last night when spilled molten aluminum ignited oil on the floor and filled the plant with smoke. Two workmen were forced to flee from the plant.

According to Calvin Mathias, plant manager, the metal spilled from a smelting furnace when workmen failed to replace a control plug fast enough to stop the flow.

Plant firemen extinguished the oil blaze, Mathias said. The Bristol and Edgely firemen, called to the scene at 8:45 stood by as the smoke was dispersed.

Public Works Supt. Dies at Doylestown

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 7 — The superintendent of public works of Doylestown borough, Winfield O. Weisel, died yesterday at his home.

A civil engineer, Mr. Weisel served as borough engineer at various times for Doylestown, Chalfont and New Britain. He was a charter member of Bucks County Chapter, Penna. Society of Professional Engineers; a member of the Engineers Club of Philadelphia, and a Mason.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Shelly Weisel; a son, Donald, and a daughter, Mrs. Milton Ruth-erford. Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

New Sewage Project Passes Halfway Mark

Three Boys Hurt in Fall; at Play

Two-year-old Daniel Stark, of Bath road and King ave., was injured at 5:30 p. m. yesterday in a fall on the cellar stairs at his home. The child was knocked unconscious, but examination at Nazareth Hospital disclosed no skull fracture. Bucks County Rescue Squad transported him.

A Langhorne boy, Edward Kemp, 9, of 209 Maple ave., received a head injury at play yesterday, while building a dam with other boys. A co-worker's shovel accidentally struck him. The Squad took him from a local physician's office to Abington Hospital.

Injured falling from a tree, Joseph Moritz, a 13-year-old pupil at St. Francis Industrial School, Edgely, received possible back, neck and head injuries. He was taken to Nazareth Hospital.

The squad treated Mildred Surick, of 1353 Minot ave., Croydon, for a dog bite, and sent her to a physician's office. Others moved by the Bucks Squad were Mrs. Rose, Linch, of 711 Cedar ave., to Burge Clinic, Philadelphia; Santos Milozzi, 318 Washington st., to Abington Hospital; Mrs. Margaret Cholski, 342 Taft st., to a physician's office; William Gray, of 1202 Magnolia ave., Croydon, to Bristol General Hospital and home, after he injured his foot in a fall at home; and Mrs. Rebecca Strimel, of Hulmeville road, and Lincoln Hwy., Parkland, to Lankenau Hospital, Philadelphia.

Dr. James Bardsley, of Hulmeville and Mechanicsville roads, Bensalem township, severely cut his left leg yesterday with a power mower he was operating at his home. Bucks County Rescue Squad took him to Nazareth Hospital.

The plans for the building call for three groups of houses of ten, seven and three units. They will be two-bedroom units.

The houses will be built on the north and south sides of Second avenue, on land formerly owned by Minot J. Hill, Jr. Mr. Wolff predicts that as additional houses are built, new streets will be built on the south side of Second avenue.

Meth Asks To Serve As Juvenile Advisor

Tullytown borough's criminologist and juvenile delinquency consultant, Sidney Meth, yesterday expressed his desire to become the consultant for all of lower Bucks county.

Meth, who is chairman of the department of sociology at Rider college, Trenton, also has the title of professor of criminology and juvenile delinquency.

"Bucks county is a rapidly expanding area, and although the boundaries don't change, the additional population and industry create many problems which have not been experienced in this section before," said Meth.

Can Be Solved

"These problems in which juvenile delinquency plays a big part, can be solved and even prevented to a great extent if we try. Although the local communities don't have many problems, now, seemingly insignificant things such as truancy, rowdiness in the movies and on

Two Youths Held For Attempted Theft of Radio

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Aug. 7—Two Philadelphia youths were held for Bucks County Court today by Justice of the Peace Reed Ewing on burglary charges resulting from their arrest at a used car lot in Bridgewater.

Officers Joseph Gallagher and Joseph Picciotti, of Bensalem township police, said the youths were in the act of taking a radio from a car on the lot, when arrested early yesterday. They were identified as John Hanley, 18, and a 17-year-old companion.

The police were called to the scene by neighbors who saw the suspects' car drive to the lot and enter a parked car.

Mrs. K. Kasperitis Dies at Home

CROYDON, Aug. 7 — A resident here 55 years, Mrs. Anna Kasperitis, 65, died yesterday at her last residence, 1037 Second avenue, following a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Kasperitis was a member of Zion Lutheran Church, Bristol. Her husband had conducted a concrete block business here a number of years.

Survivors include her husband, Kris Kasperitis; five sons: Emil F., Richard W., George W., Martin, Christopher; a daughter, Mrs. Agnes Walker, all of Croydon; one granddaughter and eight grandsons.

The Rev. Glenn H. Wampole, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church, will officiate at services Monday, 2 p. m., from the funeral home of J. Maurice Tomlinson, Cornwells Heights. Friends are invited to call Sunday evening. Interment will be in Forest Hills Cemetery, Somerton.

Morrisville Woman Dies on Vacation

MORRISVILLE, Aug. 7—A resident here for 40 years, Mrs. Sadie E. Kern Mohr, 70, widow of William G. Mohr, died suddenly Wednesday while vacationing at Wildwood Crest, N. J.

Born in Trumbauersville, she was a member of Grace Methodist Church.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. William Edwards, Mrs. Roy Bloor and Miss Katherine Mohr, Morrisville; a son, Francis Mohr, and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 45 N. Pennsylvania ave., Monday at two p. m. Interment will be in Morrisville Cemetery. Friends may call from seven to nine p. m. Sunday.

Sale Pact Of 50 Acres Is Scheduled

CROYDON — Bristol Township School directors last night decided to withdraw condemnation proceedings against Levitt and Sons property on Mill Creek Rd., pending an agreement of sale between that firm and the School Authority. About 50 acres are affected.

The Board originally started condemnation proceedings on 60 acres, but have since relinquished 10 acres of that for necessary sewage. The price stated in the agreement of sale, given verbally by the Levitt firm, was $3500 per acre.

A Board spokesman said it was the first time any "concrete price" had been mentioned in negotiations.

The Board has also decided to revert back to original plans covering sewers for new area schools, at an approximate cost of $17,000 each. Under the plan, the bids for each new school would include the cost of sewers. Several alternate plans had been proposed, but turned down as being "too expensive." An executive session held Wednesday saw the alternate plans defeated.

New Attendance Plan

A new plan for elementary school attendance by Levittown children was introduced at the meeting by Walter D. Miller. Miller said that residents of the Magnolia Hill and parts of Birch Valley sections will attend the Wistar Institute this fall. Those children residing in the Stonybrook, Farnbrook and Greenbrook sections will attend the Old and New Edgely schools.

It was understood that the plans would be "tentative," and would depend on when the new John Fitch School opens in Levittown. Miller said that 11 rooms are expected to be opened "by Thanksgiving."

The plans also include provisions

Squad Abandons Search for Two Reported Missing

LAMBERTVILLE, Aug. 7—Search for two boys reported to have disappeared Monday night when their canoe-plunged over the falls in the Delaware river between New Hope and Lambertville has been abandoned.

Chief Anthony Nanni, of the Lambertville Rescue Squad, which conducted an exhaustive floodlight search into the early hours of Tuesday morning, said the squad will drop its investigation pending a report of missing persons or other developments that might constitute a clue.

While he would not call the report of the missing boy or boys a hoax, Nanni said he thought it strange the investigation should not have turned up some pertinent fact.

Paul Shearer, superintendent of a paper mill near the falls, reported he had seen the canoe with a lone youthful occupant take the plunge over the falls and disappear.

Two boys told police they had seen two youths in the canoe that was said to have plunged out of sight over the falls.

Nanni had continued the search in the vicinity of a dam in the falls area, but no trace was found there either.

Yardley Council Inducts Member

YARDLEY, Aug. 6 — Yardley Borough Council welcomed a new member this week, Henry O'Brien, 130 S. Main st., who replaces Nelson Whitehead, 69 S. Main st.

The council announced that eight of the borough's lots on Morgan ave., have been sold to Lorraine Sancel, 64 N. Edgewater ave., for $300.

The group instructed Joseph Park, engineer, to estimate the cost of improving the Morgan ave. drainage system, after hearing a complaint about the system from Albert Mascher.

The Courier covers the Lower End of Bucks County, including the following communities: Bristol, Levittown, Fairless Hills, Langhorne, Pottsville, Eddysville, Tullytown, Croydon, Bridgeville, Bath Addition, Newportville, Torresdale Manor, Eddington, and Cornwells Heights.

Francis Miller, 19, of Cornwells Heights, and Paul were uninjured.

Molten Metal Spills at Plant

Firemen of Bristol and Edgely Co. No. 1 were called to the All-Lite Metal Window Co., Emilie road last night when spilled molten aluminum ignited oil on the floor and filled the plant with smoke. Two workmen were forced to flee from the plant.

According to Calvin Mathias, plant manager, the metal spilled from a smelting furnace when workmen failed to replace a control plug fast enough to stop the flow.

Plant firemen extinguished the oil blaze, Mathias said. The Bristol and Edgely firemen, called to the scene at 8:45 stood by as the smoke was dispersed.

Public Works Supt. Dies at Doylestown

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 7 — The superintendent of public works of Doylestown borough, Winfield O. Weisel, died yesterday at his home.

A civil engineer, Mr. Weisel served as borough engineer at various times for Doylestown, Chalfont and New Britain. He was a charter member of Bucks County Chapter, Penna. Society of Professional Engineers; a member of the Engineers Club of Philadelphia, and a Mason.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Shelly Weisel; a son, Donald, and a daughter, Mrs. Milton Ruthertford. Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

New Sewage Project Passes Halfway Mark

Three Boys Hurt In Fall; at Play

Two-year-old Daniel Stark, of Bath road and King ave., was injured at 5:30 p. m. yesterday in a fall on the cellar stairs at his home. The child was knocked unconscious, but examination at Nazareth Hospital disclosed no skull fracture. Bucks County Rescue Squad transported him.

A Langhorne boy, Edward Kemp, 9, of 209 Maple ave., received a head injury at play yesterday, while building a dam with other boys. A co-worker's shovel accidentally struck him. The Squad took him from a local physician's office to Abington Hospital.

Injured falling from a tree, Joseph Moritz, a 13-year-old pupil at St. Francis Industrial School, Eddington, received possible back, neck and head injuries. He was taken to Nazareth Hospital.

The squad treated Mildred Surrick, of 1383 Minot ave., Croydon, for a dog bite, and sent her to a physician's office. Others moved by the Bucks Squad were Mrs. Rose, Linch, of 711 Cedar ave., to Burge Clinic, Philadelphia; Santos Milozzi, 318 Washington st., to Abington hospital; Mrs. Margaret Choiniski, 342 Taft st., to a physician's office; William Gray, of 1202 Magnolia ave., Croydon, to Bristol General Hospital and home, after he injured his foot in a fall at home; and Mrs. Rebecca Strimel, of Hulmeville road, and Lincoln Hwy., Parkland, to Lankenau Hospital, Philadelphia.

Dr. James Bardsley, of Hulmeville and Mechanicsville roads, Bensalem township, severely cut his left leg yesterday with a power mower he was operating at his home. Bucks County Rescue Squad took him to Nazareth Hospital.

The $1,000,000 sewage disposal plant which will serve residents of Fairless Hills and other contiguous territory lying to the southwest is now 60 per cent complete, it was revealed yesterday by Howard A. LeDan, Harrisburg consulting engineer.

The plant is of the activated sludge type. It will be used as a full treatment plant when construction is completed "sometime this fall."

At present it is being used only for primary treatment, a process which removes solids from sewage, clarifies it and treats it with chlorine before it is released.

When the plant is completed the clarification process will be refined

Row Housing Project Planned.

A group of row houses is being planned for Second avenue, near Silver Lake, pending a hearing before the Bristol Borough Zoning Board, Aug. 20.

Present zoning laws require that no more than eight units be built in one house group. According to Burton Wolff, Philadelphia businessman, who will build the houses, he is asking the board to allow him to build 10 units in one of the house groups.

The plans for the building call for three groups of houses of ten, seven and three units. They will be two-bedroom units.

The houses will be built on the north and south sides of Second avenue, on land formerly owned by Minot J. Hill, Jr. Mr. Wolff predicts that as additional houses are built, new streets will be built on the south side of Second avenue.

Meth Asks To Serve As Juvenile Advisor

Tullytown borough's criminologist and juvenile delinquency consultant, Sidney Meth, yesterday expressed his desire to become the consultant for all of lower Bucks county.

Meth, who is chairman of the department of sociology at Rider college, Trenton, also has the title of professor of criminology and juvenile delinquency.

"Bucks county is a rapidly expanding area, and although the boundaries don't change, the additional population and industry create many problems which have not been experienced in this section before," said Meth.

"These problems in which juvenile delinquency plays a big part, can be solved and even prevented to a great extent if we try. Although the local communities don't have many problems, now, seemingly insignificant things such as truancy, rowdiness in the movies and on

Two Youths Held For Attempted Theft of Radio

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Aug. 7 — Two Philadelphia youths were held for Bucks County Court today by Justice of the Peace Reed Ewing on burglary charges resulting from their arrest at a used car lot in Bridgewater.

Officers Joseph Gallagher and Joseph Picciotti, of Bensalem township police, said the youths were in the act of taking a radio from a car on the lot, when arrested early yesterday. They were identified as John Hanley, 18, and a 17-year-old companion.

The police were called to the scene by neighbors who saw the suspects' car drive to the lot and enter a parked car.

Mrs. K. Kasperitis Dies at Home

CROYDON, Aug. 7 — A resident here 55 years, Mrs. Anna Kasperitis, 65, died yesterday at her last residence, 1037 Second avenue, following a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Kasperitis was a member of Zion Lutheran Church, Bristol. Her husband had conducted a concrete block business here a number of years.

Survivors include her husband, Kris Kasperitis; five sons: Emil F., Richard W., George W., Martin, Christopher; a daughter, Mrs. Agnes Walker, all of Croydon; one granddaughter and eight grandsons.

The Rev. Glenn H. Wampole, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church, will officiate at services Monday, 2 p. m., from the funeral home of J. Maurice Tomlinson, Cornwells Heights. Friends are invited to call Sunday evening. Interment will be in Forest Hills Cemetery, Somerton.

Morrisville Woman Dies on Vacation

MORRISVILLE, Aug. 7 — A resident here for 40 years, Mrs. Sadie E. Kern Mohr, 70, widow of William G. Mohr, died suddenly Wednesday while vacationing at Wildwood Crest, N. J.

Born in Trumbauersville, she was a member of Grace Methodist Church.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. William Edwards, Mrs. Roy Bloor and Miss Katherine Mohr, Morrisville; a son, Francis Mohr, and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 45 N. Pennsylvania ave., Monday at two p. m. Interment will be in Morrisville Cemetery. Friends may call from seven to nine p. m. Sunday.

Squad Abandons Search for Two Reported Missing

LAMBERTVILLE, Aug. 7 — Search for two boys reported to have disappeared Monday night when their canoe-plunged over the falls in the Delaware river between New Hope and Lambertville has been abandoned.

Chief Anthony Nanni, of the Lambertville Rescue Squad, which conducted an exhaustive floodlighted search into the early hours of Tuesday morning, said the squad will drop its investigation pending a report of missing persons or other developments that might constitute a clue.

While he would not call the report of the missing boy or boys a hoax, Nanni said he thought it strange the investigation should not have turned up some pertinent fact.

Paul Shearer, superintendent of a paper mill near the falls, reported he had seen the canoe with a lone youthful occupant take the plunge over the falls and disappear.

Two boys told police they had seen two youths in the canoe that was said to have plunged out of sight over the falls.

Nanni had continued the search in the vicinity of a dam in the falls area, but no trace was found there either.

Yardley Council Inducts Member

YARLEY, Aug. 6 — Yardley Borough Council welcomed a new member this week, Henry O'Brien, 130 S. Main st., who replaces Nelson Whitehead, 89 S. Main st.

The council announced that eight of the borough's lots on Morgan ave., have been sold to Lorraine Sancel, 64 N. Edgewater ave., for $300.

The group instructed Joseph Park, engineer, to estimate the cost of improving the Morgan ave. drainage system, after hearing a complaint about the system from Albert Mascher.

Our Schools Face a Crisis

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

MANY of us parents believe that in most communities, a fair and reasonable share of the public funds for public education has never been expended.

You and I know that from practically no other public expenditure do our community, state and nation get such large and lasting returns. And now, at the very time when more teachers and more buildings and other equipment are needed than at any other time in our memories, we have anxiety for the educational welfare of our children and other people's children.

Ominous Statistics
We have been hearing and reading ominous school statistics: that although 180,000 new elementary school teachers were needed this year, only 32,443 were trained; that there will be an increase in enrollment of nearly ten million school children between 1950 and 1960 and that 600,000 classrooms will be needed to house these added children; that for a minimum goal, 640,000 new elementary teachers must be trained.

This means that in a period of unprecedented prosperity, our schools are facing the greatest crisis in their history—and all in the face of a cry everywhere for less expenditure of public funds for anything.

Tax Reduction Groups
In the last analysis, each local community determines how much is to be spent on public education of its children. For a number of years, especially in rural areas and smaller communities, there have been organized citizen-groups, sometimes called tax leagues, whose main purpose has been to reduce local taxes.

Duets on new organ and piano, by Miss Lillian Van Arsdalen and Miss Dorothy Gaskell, organist and choir director; singing by senior and junior choirs at morning and evening services.

Eddington Presbyterian Church
Donald E. May, minister; Ralph Barclay, Jr., choir director; Theodore Kloos, organist; Sunday: Church school, 9:45 a. m.; nursery in Church house, 11; morning worship, 11, the Rev. Owen McGarity, pastor of Ossian, Ind., Presbyterian

Their drive to find out where there might be greater economy in the use of public funds is commendable, of course, but with their central interest in local tax reduction, these organizations can easily overlook some essential needs, especially of the community's children. They discover that they can skip or cut on school expenditures more easily than elsewhere since, in spite of there being many parents in the community, there is not, usually, a strong local force fighting for the welfare of the children. Yes, there's the PTA, which in some areas gets its dander up. Yet all too often the PTA is woefully weak at molding community sentiment for adequate public schools.

Grass Roots Movement

However, there is a grass roots movement throughout the United States which makes us a bit hopeful—the formation of active citizen-committees representing the interests of all the people of the community, who set about earnestly to study the facts of the community and its needs, especially the needs of the children. This movement has been stimulated by the National Citizens Commission for the Public Schools, with offices at 2 West 45th Street, New York City 36, N. Y. It is a non-profit corporation for the improvement of the public schools, and has received financial support from a number of the large foundations.

It recently has made available, free, I understand, three unusual booklets: "How Have Our Schools Developed?", "How Can We Organize for Better Schools?" and "How Can Citizens Help Their Schools?" It's the most unbiased and intelligent program I have ever known about.

Committee to Ask Curtis Lake Probe By George Elias

FALLSINGTON, Aug. 7 — The Curtis Lake Safety Committee last night resolved to investigate the cause of pollution at the popular swimming spot, and to call in District Engineer George Elias, of the State Health Department.

The pollution was reported July 27, when Joseph Reid, a Trenton chemist, made a water analysis at the request of the Red Cross Water Safety Committee. Reid's report caused the Red Cross swimming classes to be cancelled, but the lake is still used by bathers.

The lake is owned by the Warner Company and leased to King Farms, who have made it available to the Falls Township Fire Company. The firemen charge a parking fee, and maintain the beach.

Fire Chief Charles E. Steiner said the fire company had two chemists' tests made, which indicated that there was not enough pollution to ban swimming.

Strongly urging that the State Health Department be consulted were Irving Warner, Jr., Morrisville area manager for the Warner Company, and Willard Croft, a partner in King Farms.

Croft said the lake water is considerably cleaner than the Delaware River, which is used by many swimmers.

FALLINGTON, Aug. 7 — The Curtis Lake Safety Committee last night resolved to investigate the cause of pollution at the popular swimming spot, and to call in District Engineer George Elias, of the State Health Department.

The pollution was reported July 27, when Joseph Reid, a Trenton chemist, made a water analysis at the request of the Red Cross Water Safety Committee. Reid's report caused the Red Cross swimming classes to be cancelled, but the lake is still used by bathers.

The lake is owned by the Warner Company and leased to King Farms, who have made it available to the Falls Township Fire Company. The firemen charge a parking fee, and maintain the beach.

Fire Chief Charles E. Steiner said the fire company had two chemists' tests made, which indicated that there was not enough pollution to ban swimming.

Strongly urging that the State Health Department be consulted were Irving Warner, Jr., Morrisville area manager for the Warner Company, and Willard Croft, a partner in King Farms.

Croft said the lake water is considerably cleaner than the Delaware River, which is used by many swimmers.

A List Makes Packing Easy

Movie Star Cyd Charisse is systematic when it's time to pack for a trip. She has a check-list of wardrobe essentials.

By HELEN FOLLETT

Holiday bound? Going places? Everybody is! Now is the time of year when you should leave cares at home, seek change and gaiety. But that packing business! When you make a start at this job are you confused? It's so easy to take too much, pack things you won't need or maybe leave some needed item of your wardrobe at home.

A World Traveler

Be a one-suitcase traveler. Movie beauty Cyd Charisse, who co-stars in "The Band Wagon," has it all down pat. She has circled the world twice, has chased from coast to coast for personal appearances and to various locations for film roles.

She knows where she is going to put everything before she even opens a suitcase. Here is her packing list—you'd do well to keep the list pinned to the lining of one's suitcase for reference.

nylon blouses; three wrinkle-resistant skirts; three cardigan woolen sweaters; one semi-tailored suit; one dark, untrimmed dress; one long coat, one shortie; one shoulder bag and two pairs of nylon gloves, one light, one dark.

Prefers Low Heels

Most important, says this movie lovely, are shoes. She prefers low-heeled pumps, especially little soft slippers. On her Mexican trip, she took along three pairs, one red, one black, one white. Each is embroidered with gold and silver stitching, and the black pair is also studded with pearls and precious stones.

"As a concession to conventionality," says Cyd, "I pack one pair of high-heeled black opera pumps. And, of course, for a resort trip, I include nylon bathing suit, shorts and raffia sandals."

She suggests that it is wise to keep the list pinned to the lining of one's suitcase for reference.

Meth Asks

street corners and stealing small items lead "to further trouble," the professor said.

According to the professor more than 100,000,000 Americans can look forward to becoming victims of crime, and that approximately 16 murders per week are committed by people under 18 years of age.

Causes Cited

"The multiple causation factor is now accepted by criminologists," said Meth, "as the cause for crimes. Three hundred and fifty-thousand minors get into trouble each year, and one out of every five is a girl."

Many things cause the fellows and girls, most of whom are in the 14 to 16 age group, to "go wrong." Poor home conditions, broken homes, neglectful parents, lack of religion, youth gangs, mental or physical defects, and unsound discipline are just a few of them, he added.

"Some of the television programs, movies, and comic books can be blamed too," the criminologist added, "but doing away with all of them isn't the answer. The answer lies in helping those minors who show signs of turning bad."

"I have the time to help with these teen-agers in any community in lower Bucks county, and I am always interested in preventing juvenile crime," Meth said.

Lives in Levittown

Meth, who lives at 283 Lakeside drive, Levittown, is married and has a two year old daughter, Myrna. He has been a director in many juvenile institutions in New York, and has handled over 4,000 juveniles. Approximately 100 of these boys, although they are now married and fathers themselves, still write to him.

The roles of elementary, junior, and senior high teachers, as well as those of a principal, are not new to the Rider professor and he is an "old hand" at coaching both basketball and baseball.

In the fall Meth is scheduled to do a series of 15 half-hour television programs on crime. He has lectured

Most important, says this movie lovely, are shoes. She prefers low-heeled pumps, especially little soft slippers. On her Mexican trip, she took along three pairs, one red, one black, one white. Each is embroidered with gold and silver stitching, and the black pair is also studded with pearls and precious stones. "As a concession to conventionality," says Cyd, "I pack one pair of high-heeled black opera pumps. And, of course, for a resort trip, I include nylon bathing suit, shorts and raffia sandals." She suggests that it is wise to keep the list pinned to the lining of one's suitcase for reference.

street corners and stealing small items lead "to further trouble," the professor said.

According to the professor more than 100,000,000 Americans can look forward to becoming victims of crime, and that approximately 16 murders per week are committed by people under 18 years of age.

Causes Cited
"The multiple causation factor is now accepted by criminologists," said Meth, "as the cause for crimes. Three hundred and fifty-thousand minors get into trouble each year, and one out of every five is a girl."

Many things cause the fellows and girls, most of whom are in the 14 to 16 age group, to "go wrong." Poor home conditions, broken homes, neglectful parents, lack of religion, youth gangs, mental or physical defects, and unsound discipline are just a few of them, he added.

"Some of the television programs, movies, and comic books can be blamed too," the criminologist added, "but doing away with all of them isn't the answer. The answer lies in helping those minors who show signs of turning bad." "I have the time to help with these teen-agers in any community in lower Bucks county, and I am always interested in preventing juvenile crime," Meth said.

Lives in Levittown
Meth, who lives at 283 Lakeside drive, Levittown, is married and has a two year old daughter, Myrna. He has been a director in many juvenile institutions in New York, and has handled over 4,000 juveniles. Approximately 100 of these boys, although they are now married and fathers themselves, still write to him.

The roles of elementary, junior, and senior high teachers, as well as those of a principal, are not new to the Rider professor and he is an "old hand" at coaching both basketball and baseball.

In the fall Meth is scheduled to da a series of 15 half-hour television programs on crime. He has lectured at the meetings of many clubs and civic groups, and will speak to the Bristol Rotary club members sometime this month.

Workers 16 to 19 years old are usually trying out their abilities, actively seeking better jobs as they gain skill, so that they have the highest job turnover rate of any age bracket, says a forthright Twentieth Century Fund s.

FUMBLING 'DEMOCRACIES'

A Senate group investigating the psychological strategy of the United States has returned a critical report. Lack of coordination between State and Defense Departments and the Central Intelligence Agency is blamed.

It is also charged that the Psychological Strategy Board, established by President Truman in 1951, is not effectively discharging its functions. It is urged that conflicting approaches be harmonized and faults of overseas information corrected.

"Just as the nation cannot afford to have conflicting foreign policies, it cannot support conflicting policies within the government in dealing with other nations or in handling major international issues," says the group.

The difficulty seems to be that administration is diffused and directed by a government which has divided powers. The essence of representative government must be maintained despite its seeming inefficiency. The "efficient" dictators fall like tenpins when they carry their schemes too far. The final efficiency, which is based on popular consent, rests with the "democracies," no matter how fumbling they may appear in the first phase of their contest with the despots.

Actor Bites Dust In Bovine Run-In

By Inez Robb

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—(INS)—Into each life some rain must fall. But I think I have a right to object to being hit with the water bucket.

Without previous warning or preparation I opened a picture magazine recently and there was Gary Cooper, the two-gun guy, being put to rout by a 200-pound heifer.

Here was the ridin' ropin', ropin' scourge of the prairies, the curse of cattle rustlers from the Rio Grande to the Yellowstone, high-tailing it for cover with a lit ole heifer in hot pursuit. A heifer, may I add, that any half-grown kid in the Boise Valley could hog-tie or bull-doze it with one hand tied behind his back.

It is no exaggeration to say that my world collapsed. If I had read that Clark Gable had just come down with rheumatism or that Sir Laurence Olivier had lost the Battle of Agincourt, my girlish dreams could scarce have been more blasted by the withering word.

I am accustomed to Mr. Cooper kissing the horse in his operas, but not the dust! We can expect the collapse of law and order in the whole cow country as the result of these pictures of the western dreamboat fleeing from what amounts to a playful calf.

Mark my words, the next time ol' slim, with his two guns, is sent out to work over the rustlers, these gents will laugh in his face. For, mind you, the calf wasn't even armed.

Mr. Cooper's retreat to a prepared position, whether a strategic or tactical move, may eventually be rated one of the most costly in history. It could be the straw, or mix a metaphor, that can send the tottering movies into complete collapse.

wanted his autograph in the first place.

Ol' slim won't ever be so tall in the saddle again.

Something else, too: The first picture of Mr. Cooper's ignominious adventure in a Spanish bullring, here he had no business in the first place, sows the ol' cow hand from the Rio Grande in profile and glasses.

Now it may be the Cooper stance or it may be the pleats in his trousers ("maternity" pants, the head of clan Robb calls 'em), but there is shattering evidence here that ol' slim is developing a small corporation and had better watch his calories.

For some years now, I have idly wondered how the elongated actor kept his levis in place and his holster above his hips. But, honey, that's one worry I don't have today.

As for the glasses—let me put it this way: When I was a kid, I never saw Bill Hart ridin' the range in bifocals. Or running from a playful calf that stands no more than knee-high to a Cooper. I was born on a cattle ranch, and I have never yet seen the wranglers or the head of the posse squinting into the sun or casting the horizon through specs.

I am accustomed to Bing Crosby wearing a transformation when he goes formal and to George Jessel wearing one when he just goes. I know none of us is getting any younger, and that life catches up with all of us.

But did Gary Cooper have to let that calf catch up with him? Definitely, his grip is slowing.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

by Fulton Lewis, Jr.
(Copyright, 1952,
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The yapping liberals who 20 years ago slandered Dr. William A. Wirt and drove him from Washington behind a cloud of ridicule ought to have the decency now to apologize.

I doubt that they will. Wirt in 1933 was superintendent of schools in Gary, Indiana. He was invited to a Washington dinner party, and, as happens so often, he couldn't believe his senses when the conversation got rolling.

His hostess was Alice P. Barrows, who has just now completed her 44th year in government service in the field of education. Another one of her 1933 dinner party guests was Lawrence Todd, who until recently represented the Soviet news service in Washington.

Wirt left the party and later talked to a newspaperman about what he had heard. It made quite a story. It seems that the baby revolution even then was well underway in Washington, according to the guests present, and everybody was convinced that the then President Franklin D. Roosevelt would have to be replaced later with an American type Lenin, modeled on the Russian version.

Rexford Guy Tugwell and Henry Wallace were considered the leaders in the new social order the diners felt was necessary for the U.S.A. All in all, it appeared that everybody except Dr. Wirt was happy over the capabilities of the politicians in power to shape up the Sovietizing of the U.S.

Dr. Wirt, later on, when he was being slandered and hooted at, testified under oath before the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. The Congressmen were interested but not particularly impressed. They were terribly busy at that time lining up a slice of the handouts rolling out of the Treasury Department on White House orders.

A few days ago Alice P. Barrows, Dr. Wirt's hostess, was called before the Senate internal security sub-committee. Senators asked her if she was a Communist. At the time of Dr. Wirt's charges, she was leading the pack in denouncing him and denying that any such conversation took place. Guess what she did when the Senators pressed her for an answer to the $64 question?

Miss Barrows invoked the Fifth Amendment, saying that an answer to the question of whether or not she is a Communist might incriminate her.

It took 20 years to chase this character behind the Iron Curtain on the Communist question, and during the two decades she kept busy meddling in situations affecting the welfare of all of us.

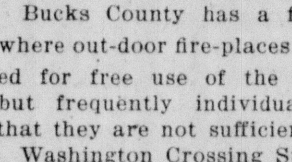

Coincidentally with her bashfulness over answering questions about Communists, a well known Red—one of the 11 convicted in New York City on the grounds of attempting to overthrow the U.S. Government by force and violence—stepped up and raised the lid a little higher on the Kremlinites in our woodwork.

He was Albert F. Lannon, who testified in a court trial involving an Army officer accused of lying when he denied on his Army commission that he was a Communist.

Lannon opined that by 1946 the Communists had 700 card carrying members in Washington, which did not include the spies and undercover agents of the Alger Hiss ilk. He said that the Baltimore office of the party processed most of the applications, which were sent to him by the busy little recruiters working on Uncle Sam's payroll at the time.

This is the first official total on the size of the Washington cell. It probably is close to the truth, with another 100 or so added to include the underground cells scattered around various government agencies. These, of course, are the Moscow idolaters who did the dirty work, but the 700 card carrying members provided them with tidbits of secrets and generally gave them protective coloring.

Well, as I say, Dr. Wirt can rest easy now. If ever a man was vindicated he has been. Now it is time for the slanderers to step up and say they are sorry. But don't hold your breath until they do.

Travelling Near Home

By Staff Reporter

Picnicking is definitely a part of vacation, and barbecues are growing more popular each year.

Bucks County has a few spots where out-door fire-places are offered for free use of the populace, but frequently individuals opine that they are not sufficient.

Washington Crossing State Park has a number of picnic spots, both in the upper and lower park areas, where the picnickers may proceed to enjoy meals they have packed at home, or use the outdoor grills to cook chops, frankfurters, hamburgers, corn, etc.

There is the "lower park" in Upper Makefield township, where along the Delaware river swimming may be combined with picnic meals. Attractions in that area include the spot where Washington crossed the Delaware on Christmas night, 1776, to surprise the Hessians at Trenton; also the Methodist Church, where is currently housed Lettze's huge painting of "Washington Crossing the Delaware."

The Bowman's Hill section of Washington Crossing Park, a few miles to the north, and straddling the Solebury-Upper Makefield township line, presents the tower atop Bowman's Hill. The hardy climber will gain from the tower summit excellent views of the river and valley, the Pennsylvania and New Jersey countryside. That area also offers Neeley's Mill with its big water-wheel; and then across the road from the mill the Thompson-Neeley house, where furnishings dating back to Washington's time are being placed one by one, for public display.

In the quietness that pervades the river-bank, one may take time out to read inscriptions on some tombstones marking graves of the heroes who nearly two centuries ago fought a bitter fight that this country might gain freedom.

Why not combine a barbecue dinner with enjoyment of some of Bucks county's finest scenery while brushing up on local history?

It's our motto not to travel to and from a spot over the same route. Why not go via Langhorne and Newtown, then due east to Washington Crossing Park. The return journey might be down the river road.

Bucks County Press Forms Association

Four Courier staff members have been named as officers or committee members of the newly-formed Press Association of Bucks County, according to an announcement by that group. Charles J. Hoye, city editor of a local weekly newspaper, was elected president for the coming year.

Edward J. Richter is vice-president. Mrs. Charlotte Shane will act as secretary-treasurer.

Committee members include: William J. Mulligan, Daniel Shifren and John Mather, charter committee; Joseph Schnorbus, public relations chairman; and Ira Joachim, grievance chairman.

The Association will meet the last Friday of each month.

Army Basic Ends For Local Youth

Pvt. Joseph P. DeFranco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donato DeFranco 9th avenue, Bristol, completed basic training at the Quartermaster Replacment Training Center, Fort Lee, Va.

DeFranco was inducted into the Army on May 12, 1953. Before entering service, he was graduated from Trenton Junior College, Trenton, N. J.

While in basic training, he received instruction in combat skills, including handling and firing weapons, battle indoctrination, camouflage, dismounted drill, squad tactics, compass and map reading with night and day problems, bivouac maneuvers, first aid and defensive measures against chemical-biological warfare.

Clarifies Board's Action

Editor, The Courier
In the report of the Bristol borough school board meeting which appeared in the Courier of Wednesday, Aug. 5th, the impression was given that the board's action concerning further use of the high school athletic field by the American Legion Cadet Corps was taken solely as the result of a letter addressed to David L. Hertzler, high school principal, by Gerald Bloom, director of athletics. This is not correct.

Various details as to what occurred on the occasion of the bugle corps contest, held the night of July 18th, were supplied by others present at the meeting, so that Mr. Bloom's letter was only a part of the overall total and in a sense only incidental to and corroborative of the verbal reports. In writing as he did, Mr. Bloom did only what his responsibility as Director of Athletics required him to do; had he failed to report the matter, he might have been considered derelict in his duty.

It may also be stated that the matter of the board's denying the Cadet Corps further use of the high school facilities until assured of better supervision was discussed at length with the secretary of the board by Mr. Straccio, commander of the corps, on Wednesday evening. At the conclusion of this discussion, Mr. Straccio indicated that he would address a letter to the Courier explaining that some of the arrangements for the competition on July 18th (which had had to be postponed from a much earlier date because of rain), did not work out quite as planned, much to the regret of the Cadet Corps leaders, and that every precaution would be taken to see that there was no recurrence of any of these objectionable features in the future. If such steps are taken, there would appear to be no reason why the Cadet Corps should not again be granted use of the high school field.

Yours truly
PAUL V. FORSTER
Secretary
Bristol Borough School Board

THEY BRING RESULTS

Your Birthday by STELLA

FRIDAY, August 7.—Born today, you are fun-loving and vivacious. You have a highly magnetic personality which draws people to you. You enjoy outdoor life and cannot endure living in crowded urban areas unless you get out into the country for week ends and long periods during the spring and summer. You have a tremendous store of energy and need active sports to work it off. If you don't, you may become moody and morose and won't know what's the matter!

Your aspirations are high and the chances are that you will reach a comfortable success quite early in life. You may never be really wealthy, since you don't care enough about working hard to accumulate a substantial fortune. You would much rather have a comfortable income and enjoy life more. It is not that you are devoid of ambition. You just consider that there are things more important in life than just making money.

You have a quick sense of humor and can see the funny side of life at all times. This may be fortunate, for there will be times in your life when a good sense of humor might save the day. Your life runs in cycles of good and ill fortune. Take advantage of the good times. Work hard and get a job done. Then when an adverse period arrives, you can lean back and sit it out! Your keen intuitions should help you to judge when to do what!

An early marriage should bring happiness. To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Saturday, August 8
LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Take full advantage of this week end for an outdoor excursion. Enjoy the summer weather while you can.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Get away somewhere in your own car or go in another's! Or go by bus or train—but don't stay at home!

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Utilize

design possible and the most efficient plant in use today," LeDan declared.

An approaching motorist will see a building of attractive brick construction, landscaped thoroughly on all sides and with planted flowers to enhance the pleasant vista. It will operate free of unpleasant odors.

Two strikes have delayed work on the project. The contract for the job was let in April, 1952. A strike of construction maintenance engineers delayed preliminary work until fall. A carpenters' strike this spring again delayed work on the plant.

Construction is under the supervision of the Falls Township Authority.

FIREMEN IN PARADE
A parade in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the Long Branch, N. J. fire department will be participated in tomorrow by the Capitol View Fire Company and its Ladies Auxiliary, Morrisville. Morrisville units are in the fifth division.

for children from Crabtree Hollow, who will also attend one of the Edgely schools.

"We had an average of 25 hundredths of an elementary school child per home in Levittown last year," Miller said, "but we are figuring on one-third child per home this year, just to be sure."

Many Innovations
Miller said that the John Fitch School "will be one of the most observed schools on the face of the earth," due to the many innovations to be introduced there. When approached as to the over-all picture of Township schools, Miller said the elementary school children would "continue at about 30 children to a room this year."

"And let me tell you," he continued, "Bristol Township spent as much money for text books as did anyone in the county. I'm plenty proud of our School Board and our system."

President J. Russell Straub said that he received a phone call from a state official yesterday asking whether the Township's new schools had applied for state aid on rental.

"It seems as if they are cutting the appropriation," said Straub, "and they wanted to warn us to get our application in quick."

Straub said that the schools at Laurel Bend and Levittown, and the junior high school at Levittown had all been applied for. He said that the total state aid budget was $60 million.

"At one time it was only $10 million," he said. "But it has since been raised to $60 million, and if we qualified for aid under the lower mark, we sure qualify now."

He said the state would refuse additional applications "as soon as that money" was gone.

A director said the state aid would cover a part of the rental due on the school structures.

A Senate group investigating the psychological strategy of the United States has returned a critical report. Lack of coordination between State and Defense Departments and the Central Intelligence Agency is blamed.

It is also charged that the Psychological Strategy Board, established by President Truman in 1951, is not effectively discharging its functions. It is urged that conflicting approaches be harmonized and faults of overseas information corrected.

"Just as the nation cannot afford to have conflicting foreign policies, it cannot support conflicting policies within the government in dealing with other nations or in handling major international issues," says the group.

The difficulty seems to be that administration is diffused and directed by a government which has divided powers. The essence of representative government must be maintained despite its seeming inefficiency. The "efficient" dictators fall like tenpins when they carry their schemes too far. The final efficiency, which is based on popular consent, rests with the "democracies," no matter how fumbling they may appear in the first phase of their contest with the despots.

Actor Bites Dust In Bovine Run-In

By Inez Robb

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (INS) — Into each life some rain must fall. But I think I have a right to object to being hit with the water bucket.

Without previous warning or preparation I opened a picture magazine recently and there was Gary Cooper, the two-gun guy, being put to rout by a 200-pound heifer.

Here was the ridin', ropin', ropin' scourge of the prairies, the curse of cattle rustlers from the Rio Grande to the Yellowstone, high-tailing it for cover with a 11' ole heifer in hot pursuit. A heifer, may I add, that any half-grown kid in the Boise Valley could hog-tie or bull-doze it with one hand tied behind his back.

It is no exaggeration to say that my world collapsed. If I had read that Clark Gable had just come down with rheumatism or that Sir Laurence Olivier had lost the Battle of Agincourt, my girlish dreams could scarce have been more blasted by the withering word.

I am accustomed to Mr. Cooper kissing the horse in his operas, but not the dust! We can expect the collapse of law and order in the whole cow country as the result of these pictures of the western dreamboat fleeing from what amounts to a playful calf.

Mark my words, the next time of slim, with his two guns, is sent out to work over the rustlers, these gents will laugh in his face. For, mind you, the calf wasn't even armed.

wanted his autograph in the first place.

Oh! slim won't ever be so tall in the saddle again.

Something else, too: The first picture of Mr. Cooper's ignominious adventure in a Spanish bullring, here he had no business in the first place, sows the ol' cow hand from the Rio Grande in profile and glasses.

Now it may be the Cooper stance or it may be the pleats in his trousers ("maternity" pants, the head of clan Robb calls 'em), but there is shattering evidence here that ol' slim is developing a small corporation and had better watch his calories.

For some years now, I have idly wondered how the elongated actor kept his levis in place and his holster above his hips. But, honey, that's one worry I don't have today. As for the glasses — let me put it this way: When I was a kid, I never saw Bill Hart ridin' the range in bifocals. Or running from a playful calf that stands no more than knee-high to a Cooper. I was born on a cattle ranch, and I have never yet seen the wranglers or the head of the posse squinting into the sun or casting the horizon through specs.

I am accustomed to Bing Crosby wearing a transformation when he goes formal and to George Jessel wearing one when he just goes. I know none of us is getting any younger, and that life catches up with all of us.

But did Gary Cooper have to let that calf catch up with him? Definitely, his grip is slowing.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

by Fulton Lewis, Jr.
(Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The yapping liberals who 20 years ago slandered Dr. William A. Wirt and drove him from Washington behind a cloud of ridicule ought to have the decency now to apologize.

I doubt that they will. Wirt in 1933 was superintendent of schools in Gary, Indiana. He was invited to a Washington dinner party, and, as happens so often, he couldn't believe his senses when the conversation took rolling.

His hostess was Alice P. Barrows, who has just now completed her 14th year in government service in the field of education. Another one of her 1933 dinner party guests was Lawrence Todd, who until recently represented the Soviet news service Press in Washington.

Wirt left the party and later talked to a newspaperman about what he had heard. It made quite a story. It seems that the baby revolution even then was well underway in Washington, according to the guests present, and everybody was convinced that the then President Franklin D. Roosevelt would have to be replaced later with an American type Lenin, modeled on the Russian version.

Rexford Guy Tagwell and Henry Wallace were considered the leaders in the new social order the diners felt was necessary for the U.S.A. All in all, it appeared that everybody except Dr. Wirt was happy over the capabilities of the politicians in power to shape up the Sovietizing of the U.S.

Dr. Wirt, later on, when he was being slandered and hooted at, testified under oath before the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. The Congressmen were interested but not particularly impressed. They were terribly busy at that time lining up a slice of the handouts rolling out of the Treasury Department on White House orders.

A few days ago Alice P. Barrows, Dr. Wirt's hostess, was called before the Senate internal security sub-committee. Senators asked her if she was a Communist. At the time of Dr. Wirt's charges, she was leading the pack in denouncing him and denying that any such conversation took place. Guess what she did when the Senators pressed her for an answer to the $64 question?

Miss Barrows invoked the Fifth Amendment, saying that an answer to the question of whether or not she is a Communist might incriminate her.

It took 20 years to chase this character behind the Iron Curtain on the Communist question, and during the two decades she kept busy meddling in situations affecting the welfare of all of us.

Coincidentally with her bashfulness over answering questions about Communists, a well known Red—one of the 11 convicted in New York City on the grounds of attempting to overthrow the U.S. Government by force and violence—stepped up and raised the lid a little higher on the Kremlinites in our woodwork.

He was Albert F. Lannon, who testified in a court trial involving an Army officer accused of lying when he denied on his Army commission that he was a Communist.

Lannon opined that by 1946 the Communists had 700 card carrying members in Washington, which did not include the spies and undercover agents of the Alger Hiss ilk. He said that the Baltimore office of the party processed most of the applications, which were sent to him by the busy little recruiters working on Uncle Sam's payroll at the time.

This is the first official total on the size of the Washington cell. It probably is close to the truth, with another 100 or so added to include the underground cells scattered around various government agencies. These, of course, are the Moscow idolaters who did the dirty work, but the 700 card carrying members provided them with tidbits of secrets and generally gave them protective coloring.

Well, as I say, Dr. Wirt can rest easy now. If ever a man was vindicated he has been. Now it is time for the slanderers to step up and say they are sorry. But don't hold your breath until they do.

Travelling Near Home

By Staff Reporter

Picnicking is definitely a part of vacation, and barbecues are growing more popular each year.

Bucks County has a few spots where out-door fire-places are offered for free use of the populace, but frequently individuals opine that they are not sufficient.

Washington Crossing State Park has a number of picnic spots, both in the upper and lower park areas, where the picnickers may proceed to enjoy meals they have packed at home, or use the outdoor grills to cook chops, frankfurters, hamburgers, corn, etc.

There is the "lower park" in Upper Makefield township, where along the Delaware river swimming may be combined with picnic meals. Attractions in that area include the spot where Washington crossed the Delaware on Christmas night, 1776, to surprise the Hessians at Trenton; also the Methodist Church, where is currently housed Leutze's huge painting of "Washington Crossing the Delaware."

The Bowman's Hill section of Washington Crossing Park, a few miles to the north, and straddling the Solebury-Upper Makefield township line, presents the tower atop Bowman's Hill. The hardy climber will gain from the tower summit excellent views of the river and valley, the Pennsylvania and New Jersey countryside. That area also offers Neeley's Mill with its big water-wheel; and then across the road from the mill the Thompson-Neeley house, where furnishings dating back to Washington's time are being placed one by one, for public display.

In the quietness that pervades the river-bank, one may take time out to read inscriptions on some tombstones marking graves of the heroes who nearly two centuries ago fought a bitter fight that this country might gain freedom.

Why not combine a barbecue dinner with enjoyment of some of Bucks county's finest scenery while brushing up on local history?

It's our motto not to travel to and from a spot over the same route. Why not go via Langhorne and Newtown, then due east to Washington Crossing Park. The return journey might be down the river road.

Bucks County Press Forms Association

Four Courier staff members have been named as officers or committee members of the newly-formed Press Association of Bucks County, according to an announcement by that group. Charles J. Hoye, city editor of a local weekly newspaper, was elected president for the coming year.

Edward J. Richter is vice-president. Mrs. Charlotte Shane will act as secretary-treasurer.

Committee members include: William J. Mulligan, Daniel Shifren and John Mather, charter committee; Joseph Schnorbus, public relations chairman; and Ira Joachim, grievance chairman.

The Association will meet the last Friday of each month.

Army Basic Ends For Local Youth

Pvt. Joseph P. DeFranco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donato DeFranco 9th avenue, Bristol, completed basic training at the Quartermaster Replacement Training Center, Fort Lee, Va.

DeFranco was inducted into the Army on May 12, 1953. Before entering service, he was graduated from Trenton Junior College, Trenton, N. J.

While in basic training, he received instruction in combat skills, including handling and firing weapons, battle indoctrination, camouflage, dismounted drill, squad tactics, compass and map reading with night and day problems, bivouac maneuvers, first aid and defensive measures against chemical-biological warfare.

Doesn't Like New Look

Dear Editor:
We don't care for the BRISTOL COURIER's "new look" — Philadelphia papers provide that. Give us Bristol news, please.

GRACE S. BREHM
(Mrs. John Brehm)

Bristol, Penna.

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Brehm will be interested to know that the COURIER's program of expansion is intended to provide far more Bristol news in the future than has been possible in the past.)

Charles Board's Action

In the report of the Bristol borough school board meeting which appeared in the Courier of Wednesday, Aug. 5th, the impression was given that the board's action concerning further use of the high school athletic field by the American Legion Cadet Corps was taken solely as the result of a letter addressed to David L. Hertzler, high school principal, by Gerald Bloom, director of athletics. This is not correct.

Various details as to what occurred on the occasion of the bugle corps contest, held the night of July 18th, were supplied by others present at the meeting, so that Mr. Bloom's letter was only a part of the overall total and in a sense only incidental to and corroborative of the verbal reports. In writing as he did, Mr. Bloom did only what his responsibility as "Director of Athletics" required him to do; had he failed to report the matter, he might have been considered derelict in his duty.

It may also be stated that the matter of the board's denying the Cadet Corps further use of the high school facilities until assured of better supervision was discussed at length with the secretary of the board by Mr. Straccio, commander of the corps, on Wednesday evening. At the conclusion of this discussion, Mr. Straccio indicated that he would address a letter to the Courier explaining that some of the arrangements for the competition on July 18th (which had had to be postponed from a much earlier date because of rain), did not work out quite as planned, much to the regret of the Cadet Corps leaders, and that every precaution would be taken to see that there was no recurrence of any of these objectionable features in the future. If such steps are taken, there would appear to be no reason why the Cadet Corps should not again be granted use of the high school field.

Yours truly
PAUL V. FORSTER
Secretary
Bristol Borough School Board

THEY BRING RESULTS

Your Birthday by STELLA II

FRIDAY, August 7—Born today, you are fun-loving and vivacious. You have a highly magnetic personality which draws people to you. You enjoy outdoor life and cannot endure living in crowded urban areas unless you get out into the country for week ends and long periods during the spring and summer. You have a tremendous store of energy and need active sports to work it off. If you don't, you may become moody and morose and won't know what's the matter!

Your aspirations are high and the chances are that you will reach a comfortable success quite early in life. You may never be really wealthy, since you don't care enough about working hard to accumulate a substantial fortune. You would much rather have a comfortable income and enjoy life more. It is not that you are devoid of ambition. You just consider that there are things more important in life than just making money.

You have a quick sense of humor and can see the funny side of life at all times. This may be fortunate, for there will be times in your life when a good sense of humor might save the day. Your life runs in cycles of good and ill fortune. Take advantage of the good times. Work hard and get a job done. Then when an adverse period arrives, you can lean back and sit it out! Your keen intuitions should help you to judge when to do what!

An early marriage should bring happiness.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Saturday, August 8

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Take full advantage of this week end for an outdoor excursion. Enjoy the summer weather while you can.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Get away somewhere in your own car or go in another's! Or go by bus or train—but don't stay at home!

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Utilize your magnetic personality in both business and social activities to your advantage. Get what you want.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—Physical relaxation is necessary, but sometimes relaxing mental tensions is just as important!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Take full advantage of the good old summertime! There isn't much of it left, this year!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Plan for thorough relaxation this week end. If you've been working hard, you can utilize a letdown.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—If you have household tasks, plan to get them done bright and early this morning so the balance of the day is for fun!

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—A short trip might prove exhilarating and change your point of view for the better!

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20)—Your favorite hobby might be the most relaxing activity for you over this week end. Indulge yourself.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21)—Get outdoors, if at all possible. You will find the country delightful and it will relax all tensions.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—This is a fine week end for outdoor activities. Go to the shore or drive into the countryside.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Get away for a two-day trip, if it is at all possible for you. It will change your point of view.

further so that a completely "crystal-clear" liquid will leave the plant for discharge into Neshaminy Creek. Design will permit increase of its present 2,000,000-gallon capacity to 4,000,000-gallons if it is required later on.

Plant equipment will consist of a pre-aeration tank, a primary settling tank, an aeration tank, a final settling tank, a measuring wier, a chlorine contact tank, two sludge digesters and a sludge grind bed.

Process Pictured

The equipment listed also gives a picture of the steps in the clarification process itself from the moment untreated waste matter enters the plant.

LeDan said the process was especially designed to accept garbage as it comes from the garbage grinder with which every house, in Fairless Hills is equipped.

Modern sewage disposal works on the principle of bacterial action. The microbes acting on waste matter render it harmless. A similar process is used in the septic tank, a Danherst Corp. spokesman said.

On Neshaminy

The plant is rising on a site along the banks of Neshaminy Creek directly south of Newportville at Fergusonville.

"It will be of the most modern design possible and the most efficient plant in use today," LeDan declared.

An approaching motorist will see a building of attractive brick construction, landscaped thoroughly on all sides and with planted flowers to enhance the pleasant vista. It will operate free of unpleasant odors.

Two strikes have delayed work on the project. The contract for the job was let in April, 1952. A strike of construction maintenance engineers delayed preliminary work until fall. A carpenters' strike this spring again delayed work on the plant.

Construction is under the supervision of the Falls Township Authority.

FIREMEN IN PARADE

A parade in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the Long Branch, N. J. fire department will be participated in tomorrow by the Capital View Fire Company and its Ladies Auxiliary, Morrisville. Morrisville units are in the fifth division.

for children from Crabtree Hollow, who will also attend one of the Edgely schools.

"We had an average of 25 hundredths of an elementary school child per home in Levittown last year," Miller said, "but we are figuring on one-third child per home this year. Just to be sure."

Many Innovations

Miller said that the John Fitch School "will be one of the most observed schools on the face of the earth," due to the many innovations to be introduced there. When approached as to the over-all picture of Township schools, Miller said the elementary school children would "continue at about 30 children to a room this year."

"And let me tell you," he continued, "Bristol Township spent as much money for text books as did anyone in the county. I'm plenty proud of our School Board and our system."

President J. Russell Straub said that he received a phone call from a state official yesterday asking whether the Township's new schools had applied for state aid on rental.

"It seems as if they are cutting the appropriation," said Straub, "and they wanted to warn us to get our application in quick."

Straub said that the schools at Laurel Bend and Levittown, and the junior high school at Levittown had all been applied for. He said that the total state aid budget was $60 million.

"At one time it was only $10 million," he said. "But it has since been raised to $60 million, and if we qualified for aid under the lower mark, we sure qualify now."

He said the state would refuse additional applications "as soon as that money" was gone.

A director said the state aid would cover a part of the rental due on the school structures.

Miscellaneous Bridal Gifts Showered On Miss Whitesell

NEWTON, Aug. 7—Miss Nancy Lou Whitesell was feted at a surprise miscellaneous bridal shower Monday evening, given by her prospective sisters-in-law, Mrs. Edwin Tanner, here; Mrs. Frederick Worthington, Croydon; Mrs. Edward Stiemme, Parkland, and Mrs. Richard McGonigle, Manchester, N. H. The shower was held at the home of Mrs. Tanner here.

Miss Whitesell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Whitesell, Sr., will on August 22 become the bride of Mr. Benjamin I. Walker, Jr., son of Mrs. Mary Walker, Richboro. Guests included: Mrs. Clarke Whitesell, Jr., and Mrs. Clarke Whitesell, Sr., Mrs. John Whitesell, Kathleen Whitesell, Mrs. Sarah Jane Daugherty, Martha Wilkes, Iverna Wiggins, Mrs. Ralph Kirk, Newtown; Arlene Tanner, Ivyland; Mrs. Harry Walker, Sr., Richboro; Mrs. Harry Walker, Jr., Buckingham; Mrs. Walter Maximuck, Lahaska; Miss Irene Dager, Hartsville.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Alfred C. Reinert, pastor of Cornwells Methodist Church

"Dost thou believe on the Son of God?" This is a question that every person will do well to ask his own soul: Do not dodge the question but face it and answer it honestly. Christ asked this question of the blind man who had received his sight (John 9: 35-38). It is of utmost importance that you believe on the Son of God, for He said, "If ye believe not that I am He, ye shall die in your sins."

This is a question that I would have all church members and professed Christians ask themselves. With all sham an hypocrisy cast aside; and with all pretense and deceiving thrown to the winds; dost thou believe on the Son of God? A father was trying to get his little son to walk across a creek which was frozen over. He assured the child that it would hold him up, and he beckoned him to come. But the child would not come. "Don't you believe me?" asked the surprised father. "Yes," said the little boy—but still he did not come. Did he really believe his father?

What are we to think when men profess to believe in Christ, and yet do not come when He says come, and do not go when He says go? On one occasion Christ said, "Why call ye Me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" Why should anyone say he believes when in reality he is shrinking back in doubt, fear and timidity? If men believe on Christ may we not rightfully expect them to be interested in the things in which He is interested? May we not expect them to enjoy the things which He enjoys, to do what He likes to do, to go where He likes to go? Will they not seek to be with His people and seek to further His cause in the earth? Then what are we to think of professed believers who are doing just the opposite of all this? Surely, their actions give the lie to their profession of faith.

Dost thou believe on the Son of God? Does your daily walk confirm your verbal confession of belief? You need to believe; the world needs your Christian testimony that shows you believe.

Two Anniversaries Marked at Dinner

NEWTON, Aug. 7—Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cloud on Sunday entertained at a family dinner at their home in honor of Mrs. Cloud's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Urston, Morrisville, who had been married 40 years on that date. It was also the 75th birthday of Mrs. Urston.

Guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Schuster and daughter Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. William Ruth, Mrs. Winifred Gulden and daughter, Emily, Miss Elizabeth Latham, Mrs. Edward Rea, Mrs. Aldan French, Trenton, N. Woman of 89 Still Drives Automobile

NEWTON, Aug. 7—Mrs. George DeCoursey entertained at her home Sunday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Ida Rodrock, Doylestown, who celebrated her 89th birthday on Sunday.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roland R. Randall, Miss Sue Randall, John Mason, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. G. Earle DeCoursey, Paoli; Mr. and Mrs. Donald DeCoursey and daughters Donna Sue and Dianne, Indianapolis, Ind., and Chester Carver, Doylestown.

Miss Rodrock, a native Bucks County, was born August 2, 1864, in Chalfont, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Rodrock. She completed her education in Doylestown Public School, then decided to enter the University of Pennsylvania School of Nursing, Philadelphia, and in 1894 was graduated from that institution. After nursing for 25 years she decided to try chicken raising on the homestead in Doylestown where she has lived for 85 years.

She is very active, drives her own car to church in New Britain each Sunday, takes eggs to Doylestown auction twice a week, and does her own housework. The outside chores have been done by Chester Carver for the past 59 years.

Miscellaneous Bridal Gifts Showered On Miss Whitesell

NEWTOWN, Aug. 7—Miss Nancy Lou Whitesell was feted at a surprise miscellaneous bridal shower Monday evening, given by her prospective sisters-in-law, Mrs. Edwin Tanner, here; Mrs. Frederick Worthington, Croydon; Mrs. Edward Stemmie, Parkland; and Mrs. Richard McGonigle, Manchester, N. H. The shower was held at the home of Mrs. Tanner here.

Miss Whitesell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Whitesell, Sr., will on August 22 become the bride of Mr. Benjamin I. Walker, Jr., son of Mrs. Mary Walker, Richboro. Guests included: Mrs. Clarke Whitesell, Jr., and Mrs. Clarke Whitesell, Sr.; Mrs. John Whitesell, Kathleen Whitesell, Mrs. Sarah Jane Daugherty, Martha Wilkes, Iverna Wiggins, Mrs. Ralph Kirk, Newtown; Arlene Tanner, Ivyland; Mrs. Harry Walker, Sr., Richboro; Mrs. Harry Walker, Jr., Buckingham; Mrs. Walter Maximuck, Lahaska; Miss Irene Dager, Hartsville.

N. Y., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Forman, Franklin st.

Mrs. Ann Sessa, Corson st., is recuperating following a recent automobile accident.

Mrs. Horace Saxton and son, Joseph, Swain st., spent Aug. 2 at Atlantic City, N. J.

On Thursday Mrs. Harvey Stoneback, Mrs. Harry Myers and sons, Harvey and Brian, Wilson avenue, returned home following a sojourn at Surf City, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood F. Goslin and daughter, Linda, of Landreth Manor, participated in a trip to Ausable Chasm, N. Y., last week.

The past week was spent by Ronald Strong, 1236 Radcliffe st., and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Liberty and family, 1200 Pine Grove street, at Seaside, N. J.

She is very active, drives her own car to church in New Britain each Sunday, takes eggs to Doylestown auction twice a week, and does her own housework. The outside chores have been done by Chester Carver for the past 59 years.

Woman of 89 Still Drives Automobile

NEWTOWN, Aug. 7—Mrs. George DeCoursey entertained at her home Sunday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Ida Rodrock, Doylestown, who celebrated her 89th birthday on Sunday.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roland R. Randall, Miss Sue Randall, John Mason, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. G. Earle DeCoursey, Paoli; Mr. and Mrs. Donald DeCoursey and daughters Donna Sue and Dianne, Indianapolis, Ind., and Chester Carver, Doylestown.

Miss Rodrock, a native Bucks Countian, was born August 2, 1864, in Chalfont, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Rodrock. She completed her education in Doylestown Public School, then decided to enter the University of Pennsylvania School of Nursing, Philadelphia, and in 1894 was graduated from that institution. After nursing for 35 years she decided to try chicken raising on the homestead in Doylestown where she has lived for 85 years.

She is very active, drives her own car to church in New Britain each Sunday, takes eggs to Doylestown auction twice a week, and does her own housework. The outside chores have been done by Chester Carver for the past 59 years.

This demonstration showed me the way to a better deal!

I'd been planning to buy a higher-priced car until

I found out all Chevrolet offered—and how much I could save!

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the rich-looking upholstery and appointments and roomy, comfortable seats. Just turn the ignition key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You get more power on less gas

Here's all the power and performance you could ever ask for. And along with it comes the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history! That's because of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines.

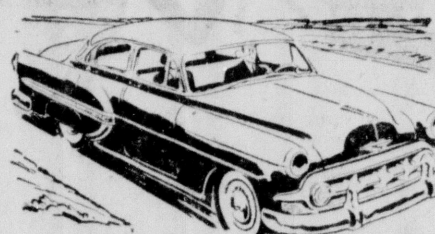

You can see all around

You look out and down at the road through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

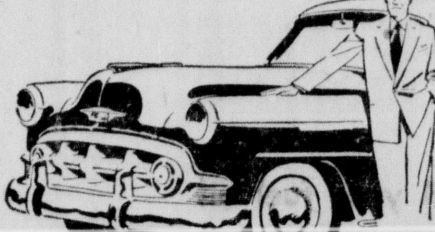

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the brake pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet brakes are the largest in the low-price field—extra large for extra stopping power.

It's heavier for better roadability

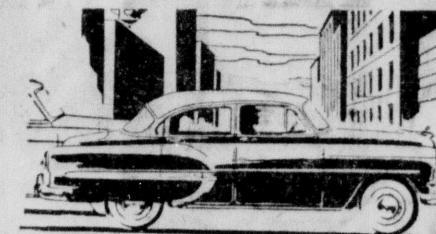

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady ride. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than other low-priced cars.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers more in the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*

Finer performance on less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

Even Power Steering, if you want it

You ought to try Power Steering to see how easy driving can be. You can spin the wheel with one finger! It's optional, of course, at extra cost, and available on all models.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

Bristol Wins All-Star Title

Bristol day campers copped the All-Star Softball Championship yesterday after they won over the Bristol township team, 16-4. A steal by Michael "Mighty Mouse" Lowder was one of the highlights of the game played in Memorial park.

A series of baseball games between the two districts will start on Thursday when Croydon campers play those from Harriman at 2 p. m. in Memorial park. Next Friday Bath Street children will play the Edgely boys and girls on the latter's field.

Martin Acts to Save Dewey's Flagship

Senator Edward Martin announced he is introducing a bill today to save from the wrecker's torch and to restore the U. S. S. Olympia. Admiral Dewey's famed flagship at the Battle of Manila Bay, and the ship which returned America's Unknown Soldier to his homeland after World War I.

The action as taken, Senator Martin said, in view of the plan of the Defense department to scrap the Olympia along with three other ships, the Constellation, the Hartford and the Oregon.

Three Carloads Of Thoroughbreds Arrive at Track

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 7—A number of candidates for the Atlantic City stakes program were among the shipment to arrive here yesterday from Arlington Park. Three carloads of thoroughbreds made the trip from Illinois and unloaded at the race track siding to send the thoroughbred colony awaiting the opener here next Tuesday, to well over the 200 mark.

The shipment comprised 11 horses trained by Horatio A. Luro, 12, Paul L. Kelley, and 10, DeVerne Emery. Jaclyn Stable's smart grass runner, Bob's Alibi, also returned to his home grounds where he's slated to carry the silks of Dr. Leon Levy, a director of the Atlantic City Racing association, in the "Triple Turf Classic" and Boardwalk handicaps.

The Luro-trained contingent augments an initial group of ten charges which arrived here from Belmont Park. W. Arnold Hanger's Iceberg 2nd, Herman B. Delman's Roaming and Charles Wacker, 3rd's Jubling appear to be the strength of the new arrivals which included Malahide, Cable Maid, Why Be Busy, Judy Dunstan, Double Talk, Waterbaby, Pat's Tony and Killor-cure.

Iceberg 2nd, a Chilean-bred imported to this country for approximately $16,000, was one of the top three-year-olds in his native country and, as expected, has shown a fondness for grass courses.

Jubling, a four-year-old filly, is named for the $15,000 Mermaid handicap on August 15. The daughter of Snark was an easy five-lengths winner of a recent allowance event at Arlington and set the pace in the Arlington Matron. The versatile Roaming accounted for the Myrtlewood handicap in his last start besting Calumet Farm's Hill Gail and Spring Hill farm's Jamie K. in 1:09 2/5 for six furlongs and in a prior effort set a five and one-half furlongs turf course record.

Kelley and Emery have well-balanced stables although there are no outstanding stakes candidates in their barns.

Kelley who won the series of Montchanin Handicaps at Delaware Park with Stop and Look has the son of Pavot on the local scene along with Modest Mary, Ignition, Appear Not, Mr. Hurry, Lady Sailor, Pass Bon, Mon Torch, Boston Platter, Double H, Quiet Man and Mere Bull.

Emery who led the trainers' list here in 1951 will campaign Blue Square, Blue Volt, Fulton Market, Sinister, Our Kite, Solicitor, among others.

5 Trophy Awards Ready for Winners At Langhorne Oval

LANGHORNE—More than 150 drivers featuring 150 miles of top notch raceway competition will highlight tomorrow's 3rd Annual Auto Racing Fair listed for the Langhorne Speedway.

Trophies will be awarded in four different branches of the racing sport and a fifth trophy will be presented to the driver who wins the all round Fair Championship. "Iron Mike" Magill and Charley Miller will vie for honors in all four races. Magill, a former big car champion, placed in two of the three events last year. His best performance was a strong second to Jiggs Peters in the midget race. Miller, a veteran behind the wheel of any type of racing vehicle, expects his only trouble in the sport car event.

European sports cars with right hand drives will be the first to take to the Bucks County oval. At least 16 open cars will take off in the unconventional clock-wise direction. This has caused a great deal of comment with racing fans in this area and it will be the first time they have ever raced on a mile oval. In this group will be Alex Tarpinian, of Brooklyn; Sam Becker, of Bayside, L. I.; Bill Vaughn, of New York and Fred Cole, of Freeport, L. I.

The midgets will ride in a 50-mile National Championship. In this race the fans will see many of their old favorites in action. In addition to Miller and Magill, the latter finished second last season, the field includes: Nick Ponora, former National Champion; Steve McGrath, top New England pilot and former prexy of ARDC; Al Keller and Art Gottler, old timers at the 'Jackets a few years back and Jess Chandler and Lou Johnson.
